STORER CHALLENGES THE PRESIDENT

Claims Facts in Celebrated Conference With The Pope Has Not Been Correctly Stated

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Cincinnati, Dec. 11.—In reply to the letter of President Roosevelt, Bellamy Storer, former ambassador at Vienna gave out a statement, in which he says his pamphlet to the president and the cabinet was written for the "deliberate judgment of men who should be informed of the true facts in the conduct of the administration.' Mr. Storer says that in itself it is an answer to many things the president has seen fit to say, but as new matter has been put forward by Mr. Roosevelt, he feels compelled to speak. Mr. Storer continues:

"There was no need of violent and insulting adjectives to show that the president dislikes me and did not wish me to remain in the service, or to retire from it in any customary way. While the past has shown that few men can differ from each other, the wishes or the memory of Mr. Roosevelt without at once becoming a scoundrel or a liar,' I must make some comments on what he has given out at the White House.

"That anything was ever written to the president by my wife to the effect 'that Mr. Choate and General Porter were not proper persons to be ambassadors,' is news to both of us. For both these distinguished men we have, and have had, nothing but respect and good will personally and officially. And the only feeling possible is one of regret that both of them have been lost to the public service since Mr. Roosevelt was re-elected. As to Mr Root, the press in 1901 was full of statements that he might not be able to remain in the cabinet on account of health, and would be succeeded by General Porter, which would leave Paris vacant.

"The president says: 'The assertion that I authorized him to make such a statement as he says he was authorized to make to the pope is untrue. I gave him no such authorization.' He omits to note that he himself told Archbishop Ireland that he had done so, and the letter of the latter to me, which I had quoted, I have ready to submit with other letters, of what the president told Archbishop Ireland relative to his message through me to the pope.

"He says, and it is supported by Secretary Loeb, that he never received my letter representing in detail my visit to the vatican. That letter was written and mailed at Meran, within the Austrian frontier, at my first moment of stop long enough to write after leaving Rome. The date is the 4th or 5th of December, 1903, and the letter is the one referred to by me in my own letter to the president of Jan. 10, 1904, where I say 'As I wrote you exactly what I did and said you may judge whether I overstepped.' It is a pity the letter in question can not be found.

"The president charges me with 'disingenuousness' in the matter of my resignation in January, 1904, the one which was refused by him, and says that my resignation was based on another reason entirely than my going to the vatican to convey his message and his treatement of the matter afterward. He had, in the strongest terms, already forbidden me to refer to that matter, and already forbidden me to quote him again in reference to it. It was therefore quite proper and natural not to speak of it but simply to leave it to him to accept my resignation on any ground he chose, or on no ground at all if he saw fit.

"The crux of the whole matter which led to my removal was the action taken by Mrs. Storer and myself with regard to the promotion of Archbishop John Ireland of St. Paul to the cardinalate. In my letter to the president and the cabinet, I cite letters written by Roosevelt to me speaking in the highest terms of Monsignor Ireland and expressing the personal wish that the country might profit by his promotion to the cardinalate. Dec. 2, 1903, I had an audience with Pope Pius X, at which I transmitted a verbal note, the basis of which was given me by President Roosevelt. I was particularly careful in its preparation and after transcribing it into English, I translated it into French and conveyed it to the pope. Everything was all right until a section of the New York church men began to agitate the elevation of another archbishop than Monsignor Ireland. They pointed out to Roosevelt that the New York prelate had at least as much claim to the red hat as the archbishop of St. Paul. This resulted in much perturbation at the White House."

UNION SQUARE, SHOWING TALL CLAUS SPRECKELS BUILDING AND OTHER STRUCTURES WHICH WERE WRECKED BY EARTHQUAKE AND FIRE.

San Francisco is Swept by Storm

Buildings Blown Down and Shipping and Docks Damaged.

SCORE OF PERSONS INJURED

Sections of Ruined Walls Leveled, Schoolhouses Unroofed and Streetcar Service Interrupted For Hours. Severest Storm on the Coast For Fourteen Years.

[By Telegraph to The Age]

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 11.—The fiercest storm that this city has experienced in many years swept over San Francisco, causing the death of one man, injuring a score of others and doing damage estimated at half a million dollars. Sections of ruined walls were leveled, temporary structures blown down, schools and houses unroofed, cellars and basements flooded, streetcar service interrupted fo several hours and all activity on the water front suspended. Forecaste McAdie of the weather bureau said that it was the severest storm experienced on this part of the coast for 14 years. The wind reached a velocity of 52 miles an hour, while off the heads it was blowing 60 miles an hour, and 2.6 inches of rain fell.

The large building which is occupied by the Mann Trunk company, the Hahnemann drug store and the Meljei Art company was wrecked. The loss is said to be about $200,000. The building occupied by the California Notion and Toy company collapsed and the larger portion of the stock was destroyed. The firm will suffer to the extent of nearly $100,000.

After the British ship Palgrave, which went ashore on Alcatraz island, had been towed out into the stream again the vessel was a second time overtaken by an unusually heavy blast, which carried her and two tugs on the rocks. While the vessel is pounding, she has not been reported to be leaking. The tugs have been unable to move her again.

The hardware store of Joost Brothers gave way under the awful strain and their building was wrecked. The damage will amount to $5,000. A number of flats in course of construction were completely whecked. The spire of St. Peter's church was carried away. The roof of the Durant school met the same fate. The walls of the Poodle Dog restaurant collapsed, destroying the temporary hall of justice in course of construction on the site of the old Tivoli opera-house.

On the bay the storm was fiercest. The ferry boats, proceeding with extraordinary caution, were tossed about about until scores of passengers were made sick. The lower decks were awash most of the time and occasionally the crest of a wave leaped onto the hurricane deck.

It will take days, perhaps weeks, to restore the streetcar system. This will be made more difficult by reason of the fact that in every instance the trolley wires came down with the buildings. Policemen were stationed at every wreck to warn people against danger from live wires.

PORK AND BEANS TAKEN BY BURGLAR

The grocery store of Martin Carroll on Kenilworth avenue was entered and robbed last night, before midnight. The cash register was found lying in the alley at the rear of the Barrick residence, on that street, by Mr. Barrick Tuesday morning.

When Martin Carroll opened his store Tuesday morning, he at once discovered that some one had been there since the store was closed the evening previous. A pile of sacks were found lying on the counter, and probably would have been filled, but the burglar became frightened at something and left them lying there.

The glass in the rear door of the room had been removed by taking the putty away, and carefully laid aside so as not to be broken. The glass had already been cracked, and just half of it was taken out, enough to let the intruder's arm reach through and slip the bolt that locked the door. Entrance was easily gained after that.

Two sides of bacon, and a quantity of beans, coffee and tobacco, were missed, and it is likely that some other goods were taken that were not missed. The cash register contained between 75 and 100 pennies. A new horse blanket that was stored away under one of the counters was also taken. The cash register was not missed until Mr. Barrick came into the store and asked where it was. Then he told Mr. Carroll where he had found it, and a hatchet lying by its side. The hatchet had not been used as the register was easily opened, and it was not damaged.

Mrs. Carroll heard some one walking on the porch about 9 o'clock, but thought nothing of it. Now she thinks it was the robber, trying to find out if the family had retired, and if he was likely to be interrupted in his work. Tracks about the house Tuesday morning indicate that the robber was the man who was on the porch.

CURTIS' STORY SEEMS TRUE

[By Telegraph to The Age]

Dayton, O., Dec. 11. — The second autopsy, performed by five physicians, on the exhumed body of Dona Gilman, shows that the murdered girl had been criminally assaulted. Examination of the contents of the stomach showed that the last meal she had eaten was at a restaurant, the contents corresponding with the restaurant bill of fare. This last fact was considered of supreme importance by the investigating officials, because upon its substantiation hinged the effectiveness of the arrest of the mother and brother of the murdered girl and the attempt, thus far ineffectual, to apprehend the older sister, Fayne. The charge against members of the family, the mother as principal and the brother and sister as accessories, was made by Constable Wm. Heintzman of Cincinnati, in a series of affidavits. Young Gilman was arraigned before Magistrate Wagner, pleaded not guilty to the charge, and was held for trial. Mrs. Gilman was not placed under arrest, as she is in the Miami Valley hospital and is reported to be in a serious condition.

In their report the autopsy physicians declare "it is our joint conclusion that death was caused by strangulation." Coroner Kline, commenting on this declaration, said that the condition of the throat, the inner walls of which had been broken down from choking, showed exactly the condition which would have been produced by the grip David Curtis declared in his recent confession that he had held on the throat of the girl till she ceased to struggle.

There is no stomach dosing when one uses Hyomei. Simply breathes its medicated healing through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and all catarrhal germs will be killed and the mucous membrane will be healed.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1 sufficient for at least two weeks' treatment, making it one of the most economical methods of curing catarrh. Washington, Dec. 11. — The president has filled the vacancy to be created by the transfer to the cabinet of Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg by the selection of John W. Perkins Case Called.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 11.—The criminal charge against George W. Perkins as vice president of the New York Life Insurance company, in connection with the payment of $18,702 to the Republican national committee in the campaign of 1904, came up before the court of appeals. Grand larceny in the first degree is the charge made by District Attorney Jerome against Mr. Perkins, who is a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Company. It was shown before the Armstrong insurance committee a year ago that Mr. Perkins paid the money out of his own funds, and was afterward reimbursed with interest out of the funds of the New York Life Insurance company by order of President McCall.

DESIGNERS SEEM SURE OF SUCCESS

Plant to Make Compressed Air at Small Cost to Be Set Up In Maine. Theory of the Manufacture and How the Product Can Be Utilized Commercially.

One of the greatest problems which today confront those engaged in manufacturing enterprises is how to produce and transmit power which shall be at once of the highest utility and entail the least possible expense. Upon such a problem a number of business men in Rockland, Me., and civil engineers in other places have been working for many months, says a South Thomaston (Me.) correspondent of the New York Herald. They think they have solved the question and that their discovery will revolutionize the industrial system of New England. Foremost among these gentlemen is William O. Webber of Boston, a civil engineer. He is not only consulting engineer of this new enterprise, but has shown his faith by investing his money in it. The plan is simply this—to manufacture compressed air by the utilization of the tides. At a glance it can be seen that this tidewater, if it can be successfully controlled, furnishes a limitless and never failing source of strength. But how to control it? These gentlemen are satisfied that they have found the way. They are not, however, anxious to place it upon the market, though a company has been formed for the building of a plant where their scheme will be tested.

A plant where the tides will be utilized and compressed air will be manufactured and put to practical use is to be erected soon in South Thomaston, on the Wessaweskeag river, where the tides ebb and flow from the ocean close by.

Compressed air from fresh water for use as power has been produced for some time. At Magog, Que., under a twenty foot head of water the first plant of this kind was erected and has been in continuous operation, day and night The latest plant of this kind was built near Norwich, Conn.

In order to obtain the desired results such a plant had to be constructed near a waterfall. A shaft is sunk into the earth near the waterfall an iron pipe is placed within the shaft at the bottom of which shaft lies a tank, or separating chamber, to receive the air. The falling water is conducted to the top of the iron pipe and discharged therein, the water passing down through the pipe to the bottom of the shaft and returning thence to the surface The shaft is made large enough to allow the water to return to the surface within the shaft, but outside the down flow pipe

The falling water entrains the air in the form of bubbles, carrying these bubbles to the bottom of the shaft. At this point the air separates from the water, remaining in the tank below, the water continuing on its course up the shaft and into the stream. A pipe is connected with the separating tank, and through it the air is conducted directly to the cylinder of an engine

The advantages of power of this kind are many The air is accumulated without much expense, it is absolutely safe, it is always ready to be used, leaves no ashes or cinders and may be used in any ordinary steam engine without alteration. The motor or engine requires little attendance, and there is comparatively nothing to be paid out for repairs.

Several months ago it was determined that if tidewaters could be harnessed and made to produce compressed air this power would be produced a great deal cheaper and would not be subject to many of the drawbacks to which fresh water power is liable. For instance, with the utilization of the tides there would be no freshlets, no droughts, no anchor ice, no auxiliary steam plant; there would be no repairs and no expense of maintenance worth noting.

A number of practical engineers and capitalists became interested in the scheme, and investigations and experiments were begun. After months of preliminary work patents have been secured upon the necessary apparatus not only in the United States, but in about every civilized country in the world.

This company has options on large tracts of land and several available sites and during the summer completed at South Thomaston a model of the plant which is to be erected. It has selected for the site a place where can be built a dam and where the ebb and flow of the tide can be utilized. And any place along the coast which answers this simple requirement can be utilized for a plant of any size which the company believes can be successfully worked. All that is necessary is to construct a dam from which will come a fall of water of not less than twelve feet.

The company has done its work in an old tide mill notable for its age and former importance. It was erected in 1842 and for many years was the grist mill where all the corn and wheat that supplied Knox county were ground. With the coming of modern methods the old mill lost its usefulness in this direction and came into possession of George Green, a shrewd Scotchman, who for years has been working at the granite business and had his part in the erection of many of the public buildings of the country. He now uses the mill and employs the tide power for the polishing and grinding of stone.

That's what the New Method Gas Range does. How? By saving you 25 per cent. of your gas bill.

The New Method Gas Range

Is made of key steel instead of cast iron This steel being highly polished does away with all friction on the passage of the air and gas through the burner allowing a larger quantity of air to be taken in and mixed properly with the gas than can be in the thick, rough cast iron burners. The more air burned the less gas. Accurate tests made by gas experts in different parts of the country have shown an average of 25 per cent less consumption of gas from the New Method, than from any other burner.

The steel plates in New Method Ranges are coated on both sides with enamel baked on so hard that it is not effected by heat or will not rust Steel coated in this way will outwear cast iron and then they're the easiest to clean.

Cattleman's Plan to Establish One In a Texas Canyon.

NATURE'S RETREAT FOR THE WILD

The Preserve Near Canyon City Would Be About Fifty Miles Long by From Five to Ten Wide—Consent of State of Texas and Help From the National Government Are Needed.

Charles Goodnight, a noted cattleman of the Panhandle of Texas, proposes, if the consent of the Texas state government and financial aid of congress be given, to form an association for the establishment in Palodura canyon, near Canyon City, of a preserve for buffalo and other wild animals native to the southwest and also of a ranch for the propagation of a breed of beef animal, which he has named "catalo," the same being a cross of the buffalo and the thoroughbred domestic beef animal, says the Kansas City Star.

The canyon is a chasm through which runs Palodura creek, one of the headwaters of Red river, and is about fifty miles long by from five to ten wide. It begins with a series of precipices, by which it falls about 200 feet and thence by sharp declivities until its greatest depth is 1,200 to 1,500 feet. Through the entire distance the little stream traverses a narrow valley, and all the way on both sides the walls are almost perpendicular.

The valley is fertile land and is covered with a growth of large forest trees which, wherever it is possible for them to take root, even climb the rocky bluffs These trees are the pecan, the elm, the hackberry, the walnut, the sycamore, the cottonwood and the cedar. The cedar attains an enormous growth and is claimed by scientific men who have visited the canyon to be the same as the cedar of Lebanon of Scriptural fame. The trees of the canyon and the bases of the bluffs which confine it are covered with wild grapevine, Virginia creeper and other climbing vegetation Beneath it all the creek meanders, sometimes flowing peacefully, but more often brawling its way over rocky precipices

In the bluffs nature has made caves where bears wolves wildcat and panther live and in crevices smaller fur animals make their homes In the depth of the forest deer and antelope abound In the trees song birds build their nests, and high up in the faces of the bluffs eagles have their eyries In the deeper waters of the creek game fish abound, and muskrat burrow in the yielding soil. It is nature's retreat for the wild, and to save the native wild animals from total extinction Mr. Goodnight is willing to lead a movement to collect them in pairs or herds and place them in the canyon for future preservation

If the two governments do their part Mr. Goodnight offers to give outright to the association a herd of more than 100 buffalo which he has preserved on his ranch This is the only herd of the American bison in the southwest where it formerly found winter pasture in herds of countless thousands, and Mr. Goodnight thinks it ought to be preserved by government here on its native health. Mr. Goodnight would corral the buffalo and the "catalo" on the prairie adjacent to the rim of the canyon The other animals he would confine in separate corrals in the depths of the canyon

He chooses the prairie for the buffalo and for the cross breed because the native grasses of the plains are nature's food for these animals They will eat other food, but they prefer the native pasture, and in no other part of America are these grasses so nutritious as here upon the staked plain in the Texas Panhandle The land is not public domain, but enough, including the canyon—may be purchased for the use Mr Goodnight proposes Indeed many large holders have offered for a nominal price to convey to the proposed association lands which they own in the canyon and bordering it The transfer must be done soon however, for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe by its main line and branch from Canyon City is daily carrying a greater immigration into that country

Collecting and propagating his herd of buffalo and breeding the "catalo" have cost Mr. Goodnight much time patience and money, and, although it has been and still is a labor of love for him, he is willing for the government to take the work over, for he now is seventy or more years old, past the age of active usefulness, and since he has nobody to hand it down to he wants to make sure that what he has so well undertaken will not be suspended or abandoned He believes that in the "catalo" he has made a beef animal superior to any other breed and that the next generation will even improve upon it. President Roosevelt, it is said, has signified a willingness to recommend the project to congress if Texas will cede jurisdiction of the canyon.

Uprising in Ecuador.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Dec 11.—The local police arrested here a group of armed rebels at the moment they were embarking for Babahoyo, 40 miles down the coast, for the purpose of conducting a revolutionary movement Four of the men jumped into the river to escape arrest and two of them were drowned It is officially announced that the revolutionists under Colonel Vegas are now near Achupallas Government troops are trying to surround them and compel them to fight There is reason to believe that the rebels are importing arms from Colombia for the purpose of starting the movement in the western provinces.

Colt Leaped Over Traces

Two young men from the country came near having a bad mixup on Park avenue recently. They were driving a team of young colts, and one of the animals had become unreined Near Orchard street they passed a boy of about 12 years, and asked him to replace the rein. He started to do so but the colt became frightened and lunged toward him and struck him in the breast with one of its feet The boy was knocked backward in the mud, and at first was thought to be badly hurt He was badly bruised and terribly frightened, but nothing serious resulted.

The other colt became frightened and jumped clear out of the traces and swung around in front of the first colt. The young men jumped out in the mud, and after considerable work, succeeded in straightening out the tangle, without any serious damage

Chicken Gives up Ghost When This Lady Starts

Mrs. Eliza Jackson of John street, seems to hold the record for killing chickens. She stated in Squire Wimmer's court Monday afternoon that she had killed forty. Not only that, but she runs them until she catches them, although she is a rather portly lady. Once she gets her hands on them she dexterously twists their neck and off comes the head. Mrs Jackson was charged by Mrs. Annie Coleman, her next door neighbor, with clubbing two chickens. After hearing the testimony Squire Wimmer bound Mrs Jackson over to court. L. N Staats represented the plaintiff and J C Daugherty the defendant

The Wranglers

The Wranglers wrangled over Thomas Campbell at their meeting Monday evening the ball being started a-rolling by Mr. A. H Thomson Mr. Thomson gave an edifying talk taking up first the life of the poet drifting from that to a discussion of his style and concluding with the reading of parts of "The Soldier's Dream" and "The Last Man," the latter being designated as the author's noblest work. When Mr Thompson finished the other men began and Campbell was discussed from every possible point of view. It was a very interesting meeting.

The Historical Club.

In spite of the rain and various other unpropitious atmospheric conditions the meeting of the Historical club which was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs C. L. Denman on Chestnut was a great success Mrs Denman, Mrs. Olney Mrs A N Compton and Mrs Howard Miller divided the honors of hostesses and the program given was of exceptional excellence. It opened with tuneful "Bonnie Doon" sung by all the ladies and the responses given to roll call were divided between Scotch anecdotes and quotations from the best loved Scotch writers in verse and prose Mrs I T. Smith's paper was the first one presented her subject being "The Conquest of Scotland." She took the club with her back through the centuries to the days when Agricola came over from Rome and invaded Scotland working havoc there because the inhabitants of the east and west coasts of the land were hostile not only to the Romans but to each other; Africola did not remain in the country to enjoy his triumph however; he returned to Rome and in the course of time the interests of the contending people were united by a marriage which joined two of the most prominent families of each. Then roads were made and forts were built and precautions taken to resist invading foreigners Next a brief resume was given of events down to the days of Duncan who is best known as he is pictured in Shakespear's "Macbeth." Malcolm of various memories was mentioned as were Wallace and Bruce and the troubles caused in both Highlands and Lowlands by Edward I's attempts to maintain the dignity of Overlord were given in detail. In fact these difficulties which arose in Edward's time were a most important feature in the paper which brought Scottish history down to the days of the Stuarts

Mrs. Trott followed with a well-written paper on "The Growth of the English Language." In the beginning she mentioned the similarity of the words used by the Saxons, Jutes and Danes and then coming down to the time of the Roman Conquest the utter lack of infuence which the invaders had on the language of the conquered was brought out. The Latin derivities were not introduced until many years later and then it was due to Alfred the Good. But the most important thing of all in the development was Wycliff's translation of the Bible and the appearance of Chaucer's "Centerburg Tales" which virtually established the language as it is today. The Norman Conquest of course made itself felt and in the seventeenth century the language was a mixture of Anglo Saxon, Norman French and Latin

Then the club sang "Annie Laurie" and there was a group of solos—all of them Scotch and all of them beautifully sung—by Miss Eleanor Olney, Mrs. Longwell and Miss May Denman.

When the program was concluded there was a delicious supper served the hostesses being assisted by Miss Denman, Miss Helen Denman and Miss Winifred Hanlon.

The meeting was a genuine delight and was well attended by both the associate and active members as well as the following guests Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. D. T. Lee, Mrs. Gault, Mrs Raiff and Miss Whiting.

The next meeting will be held WednesdayDec. 26

Chautauqua Circle.

The Chautauqua Circle met Monday yeevning with Mrs. Carnahan and enjoyed a delightful program. Current events were given in response to roll call and Miss Barbara Preston gaveen excellent paper on "Imperial England" the sub-topics being "Pioneers of Empire," "Clive" and "Hastings," "Cook and [illegible]" and "David Livingstone." The paper provoked an interesting and profitable discussion and the evening's work concluded with a clever original story written and read by Miss Elizabeth Wilson.

Refreshments were served after the program and the circle adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Truman Waltz butnot until Jan. 7.

MET 2 WEEKS AGO: WEDDING IS TOMORROW

Miss Rose Edwards of Adamsville and Mr B. R. Lacy of Jefferson county, Kansas, will be united in marriage Wednesday evening at half past eight o clock at the home of the bride's brother in Newark in the presence of only a few relatives and close friends among the number being Mr Lacy's brother and his wife, Mr and Mrs. S M Lacy of this city The happy pair will visit relatives in this part of the state until after the holidays and will then leave for the home in Kansas whither they will be followed by the good wishes of all their friends.

There is quite a tinge of romance about the wedding for the prospective bride and groom never met until a fortnight ago. Mr. Lacey was born near Adamsville and lived there until he went west in '79 but while his relatives and those of the lady he was destined to wed were great friends and the two had often heard of each other they had never met until the groom-elect came to Ohio this last time There is an old proverb which says "happy is the wooing that's not long a-doing" so the future is evident full of good things for Mr. Lacy and the bride-elect.

Bartender Gets The Dose

Before Mayor Smith at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon Mike Rocco pleaded guilty to the charge of selling intoxicating liquors in Brooke Johnston's saloon last Sunday. The charge was first placed against Mr. Johnston but he and Mr. Rocco both said that Mr. Rocco went in the saloon without instructions from Mr Johnson whereupon Solicitor Williams decided that the charge must be placed against the bartender instead of the proprietor. Rocco appeared this afternoon and was fined $50. He could not pay his fine at once and until he can make arrangements to pay it he will have to remain in jail and if he cannot pay it he will go to the Columbus workhouse None of the fine was remitted.

VATICAN

On the Efforts Made In Behalf of Archbishop Ireland.

Rome, Dec. 11.—Since the recall of Bellamy Storer from the post of ambassador of the United States to Austria-Hungary, last March, several attempts have been made to induce the vatican authorities to set forth what pressure if any had been brought to bear upon them from President Roosevelt to make Archbishop Ireland a cardinal. Today the vatican declared semi-officially it could make no such statement, as President Roosevelt never had asked anything through official channels. It was explained that while several Americans who declared they spoke with President Roosevelt's authority had attempted to influence the giving of the red hat, they did not agree on the archbishop thus to be honored. The vatican authorities do not consider that President Roosevelt was responsible for these recommendations.

PRIZE MONEY.

President to Create Permanent Industrial Peace Commission.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The following statement regarding the disposition of the Nobel prize money, awarded to President Roosevelt by the Norwegian storthing in recognition of his services in ending the Russo-Japanese war, was issued from the White House:

The amount of the Nobel peace prize will be conveyed by the president to trustees, to be by them used as the foundation of a fund the income of which shall be expended for bringing together in conference at Washington, especially during the sessions of congress, representatives of labor and capital for the purpose of discussing industrial problems, with the view of arriving at a better understanding between employers and employes, and thus promoting industrial peace. The president, with their consent, will appoint as trustees of the fund the chief justice of the United States, the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of commerce and labor, a representative of labor, and a representative of capital. The fund will be conveyed to the trustees to be held in trust for the following purposes: To invest and reinvest the principal of the fund; to receive any additions which may come to it by contribution, and invest and reinvest them; to pay over the income from the fund and its additions to a committee of six, to be selected by the trustees, two to serve for one year, two for two years and two for three years, three of its members to be representatives of labor and three of capital, chosen for distinguished service in the industrial world for promoting righteous industrial peace.

The amount of money represented in the prize is 138,536 crowns, or $37,127.65. A diploma and medal go with the money. The Nobel peace prize is part of a bequest left by Dr. Alfred Bernhard Nobel, the Swedish scientist, who died in 1896. By his will a large portion of his fortune was devoted to five annual prizes, each valued at $40,000.

Education Bill Dead.

London, Dec. 11.—The unexpected decision of the cabinet to reject en bloc the amendments to the education bill made in the house of lords, which came as a complete surprise to most of the members of the house, and which indicates that the nonconformist influence was too strong for the government to withstand, seals the fate of the bill. Any compromise is now regarded as hopeless; the bill certainly will be dropped and a new [illegible]

ROOSEVELT

Called On to Assist Defence In the Shea Case.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—President Roosevelt has been called upon to assist the defense in the Shea case when the state has finished the presentation of its evidence against him for alleged conspiracy in the teamsters' strike last year. The president has been brought into the case by a letter addressed to him by Shea recalling to him the interview he had in Chicago with a committee representing the striking teamsters in May, 1905. Shea, who was spokesman of the committee, requests President Roosevelt to forward to him a transcript of the stenographic notes of the conversation which were taken down for the president by a stenographer, explaining that it is desired to use it in the defense.

Strike Threatened on Reading.

Reading, Pa., Dec. 11.—The situation on the Reading railway system with regard to the grievances of the engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen has reached a serious stage, and a strike is threatened if an agreement is not soon reached. International officers of the unions involved held a meeting with Superintendent Dice of the Reading system, along with committees representing the men. The chief contention is recognition of the union, which the company declines. After the meeting it was announced that Superintendent Dice had objected to signing the contracts submitted by the men, or, in other words, had refused to recognize the union. After the meeting Mr. Dice went to Philadephia, presumably to see President Baer.

Strikers Gain Their Point.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 11. — More than 5,000 cigarmakers went on strike because of the poor streetcar service while a new bridge across the Hillsborough river is being constructed. All employes of factories on the west side of the river proceeded to the city hall and made a demonstration. A committee called upon the mayor and the streetcar authorities, declaring the men would not return to work until they should be given free ferrying across the river and better car service. The mayor immediately directed that both demands be granted.

Strike at Electric Plant.

Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Two thousand members of the Industrial Workers of the World struck at the local plant of the General Electric company because the company refused to reinstate three members of the union, two of whom had been discharged for inefficiency and trouble with the foreman and one who had resigned and who wished to be re-employed after his resignation had been accepted. The union's demand for the reinstatement of these three men was couched in terms which the company styled "rank insubordination," and was refused.

Government Troops Routed.

Shanghai, Dec. 11.—The rebels at Pingkiang, province of Kiangsi, who have caused the foreigners employed in the coal mines there to seek refuge at Changsha, have routed a small government force. The Chinese miners have struck in sympathy with the rebels. Reinforcements of troops are being sent to the scene of the disturbance.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Landed on Uninhabited Island.

Port Huron, Mich., Dec. 11.—Word has been received at the offices in Sarnia, Ont., of the Northern Navigation company, that the passenger steamer Monarch of that line ran aground near Isle Royale and sank. The crew of 30 men and a passenger list of about the same number were rescued by a tug and are sheltered on a small island in the vicinity. Another tug has been sent from Port Arthur, Ont., to bring the rescued people to that city. They are without buildings or any protection from the weather, which has been below zero most of the time since they landed on the uninhabited island. It is feared here that some may have perished with the cold.

Called Lawyer "A Dirty Liar"

"You're a liar, a dirty liar." These words were handed out to a rather sharp tongued attorney Tuesday morning in the office of a local justice. The lawyer insinuated that the justice had made up his mind on a case before all the testimony was in. The squire shot it at him straight and square—and the lawyer walked out.

What Adam ate, not what he drank,
Was he from Eden's garden driven,
O, what a difference there now would be,
If he had taken Rocky Mountain Tea.

DOC ABBOTT IS WANTED TO MANAGE TEAM

Business Men Give Pud Carr Much Encouragement

Base ball enthusiasm is waxing warmer everyday, and the prospects are that Coshocton will be represented by one of the strongest amateur teams in the state.

Pud Carr, who is pushing the project for all it is worth in all the cities spoken of to form the league, held a conference Monday evening with a prominent business man who is greatly elated over the chances.

The business man, who is well known, thought that it would be no trouble to raise twice the amount of money to start the team, as was thought about at the beginning. He said hat although no one had asked, that another business man told him that when they came after financial aid, he would head the list with $25. That is encouraging as a starter.

"Doc" Abbott, Coshocton's star base ball player and a great favorite among all the fans and everyone who knows him, is suggested as manager and coach of the team. He has had more experience in inside base ball than anyone in the city, and there is no one who could coach the boys so well as he. Doc has not even been spoken to as yet but the chances are that he will be cordially invited as soon as the team is started.

There is no question about the team that would represent this city being one of the strongest if not the strongest in the league. Mr. Carr has spoken to a pitcher that was the star on the leading amateur team in the state last season, and says hat he can bring him here at any time. He would not give his name at present but would put the manager of the team next to his whereabouts as soon as it was started

The business men are all being seen as rapidly as possible, and in a few days it is probable that a meeting will be called and plans definitely arranged.

THE STAGE

The Rentfrow Comedy company, which is to be here all this week gave its opening play "A Fight for a Million" at the Sixth Street theatre Monday evening. The theatre was well filled and the show was thoroughly enjoyed. The specialties were especially good. Tonight the play will be "The Green Eyed Monster." Tomorrow afternoon "East Lynne" will be given and Saturday afternoon "Below Zero" will be played.

New Members.

Miss Clara Mathes and Will Marsh joined the Rentfrow company here, coming on from the west to take the positions. Miss Mathes' work has already made her many friends in Coshocton but Mr. Marsh will not be known—he goes on ahead "seven days out," and paves the way for the company

LONG TENNESSEE FIGHT.

For twenty ears W. L. Rawls, of Bells, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear never to return." Best salve in existence. 25 cents at C E Anderson's drug store, Coshocton, also at C. M. Ferguson's drug store, Roscoe, O..

Lloyd Pocock Will Retire

Thursday, December 20, Lloyd Pocock will sell all his horses, vehicles, harness etc., at public auction and retire from active business thus removing from the public eye a man well and favorably known to Coshocton people as well as the traveling public. For years he has been engaged in the livery and street car business and retires on account of ill health, with the friendship of hundreds of citizens.

Tough Luck.

Frank DeHart and Fred Cantwell spent Sunday with friends in Newcomerstown. One of the boys missed the midnight train, and had to spend part of Monday there also.

MAY FILE 2 REPORTS

It is rumored on the street that Louis McClain and James Glenn will decline to sign the report prepared by B. F. Voorhees, the other member of the committee appointed to investigate the annual report of the county commissioners.

Mr Voorhees was seen by an Age man and said that if the other two members of the committee refused to sign the report he would file it as a minority report.

Mr. Glenn stated to Age man that he had not seen the report yet but that judging from the item concerning it in Monday's Age he did not believe he could sign it as some of the allegations contained therein "would make the committee look ridiculous."

OHIO COAL DEALERS IN A TRUST?

Columbus, O., Dec. 11—Charles S. Binns, formerly a sales agent for the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company, sprung a sensation in the Common Pleas Court Monday by stating that all coal operators in central Ohio have been for years meeting in this city and fixing prices on the output. This was done for the purpose, he said, to keep up the business, and his statement was such a surprise in certain quarters that it is probable a full investigation will be made.

Two years ago the prosecuting attorney summoned a large number of coal men before the grand jury for the purpose of discovering, if possible, any violation of the Valentine anti-trust law. The declaration of Mr. Binns is just what the officials failed to get at the grand jury investigation mentioned and another attempt may be made. On cross-examination he gave considerable details, but insisted that prices were a uniform rate, such as the law seeks to forbit.

The suit in which he was a witness is against Sidney A. McManigel, formerly general manager of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron Co., in which an attempt is being made to have an accounting made of property purchased while with the concernand said to have been converted to his own use. Mr. Binns is now the secretary of the Capitol Coal and Coke company.

Forty Drown.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 11—Forty men employed in Thornton's big factory, were drowned today while crossing the ice, which covered the Neva.

The ice broke as one hundred men were in the middle of the stream, but 40 of them were able to reach the shore. Few of the bodies have been recovered, as the rushing waters carried them down under the ice.
